HAMILTON'S SUSTAINABLE HOUSE

Eric Roth

Roth is a photographer from Tapsfield who covers interior design for national and regional magazines. "After shooting interiors all over the country, I'm thrilled to bring recognition to the fabulous North Shore designers, architects, and builders. This magazine is a wonderful opportunity!"

Caitlin Flynn and Elyse Parkhurst

Flynn and Parkhurst own North Fork Design Co., an interior design firm completing projects on Boston's North Shore, Back Bay, and South End. They have been featured in Northshore magazine, Coastal Home, and ID Boston. They draw inspiration from clients' interests—weaving and layering in personal items to make each space unique.

Alexandra Pecci

Pecci is a freelance writer who grew up on the North Shore and has written about its people and places for years. Her travel, food, and lifestyle stories appear in Every Day with Rachael Ray, The Washington Post, and many other publications. She lives in southern New Hampshire with her husband, Brian, and daughter, Chloe.

Michael J. Lee

Lee is a Boston-based photographer specializing in interiors, architecture, and landscape architecture. He holds a bachelor's degree in interior design and has worked for 16 years with renowned designers Celeste Cooper and Richard FitzGerald. Lee resides just outside of Boston with his wife and two daughters.

"Comfort also means the ability to feel good about yourself. Supported and respected at your job. Safe in your home and community. Proud of the legacy you are leaving behind."

"I love the grandeur of [the house], but it's not pretentious. It has a power but it's really natural and really honest."
